

Journey to Success: Top Tips, Do's & Don'ts

- Set Objectives & messaging: to get your ROI you need to know why you are exhibiting, come up with the main marketing message that you are going to promote.
- Preparation: read sponsorship and exhibitor manuals, ensure you are aware of all responsibilities, obligations and things that need to be finalised before the event. Make sure you prepare. Access exhibitor manual via exhibitor zone and ensure you fill in all correct info and go through important sections and forms. Ensure you communicate with the contractor.
- Tailor your communications: identify your audience and their main goals and don't forget to inform them about the event. Connect with leads and prospects via social media, your website, industry news.
- Promo: make sure you are aware of everything that our team can do for you for free: posts on social media and event website, marketing testimonials video, our promotional email campaigns, banners on the exhibitor zone, customer success team, etc.

Before the event

During the event

- Build-up: ensure you arrive for the build-up, have correct contact details of your contractor, member of our operations team and customer success team.
- Standing out from the crowd: create journey or experience for your customers, think outside the box with your design: clear colour theme, engage with senses, think about unique special feature or technology that can wow your visitors and attract attention.
- At the Stand: ensure you brief your staff on messaging and engagement, keep it simple and clean but ensure your stand is cosy and has comfortable furniture. Showcase your projects, think about main themes of the show and how you can build on them. (green-technology, innovation, charity and special causes, etc.)
- Engagement: don't forget that engagement is very important, give attention to every visitor and don't forget to scan their badge / collect their business credentials.

After the event

- Analyzing the data: look through the data that you collected and sort it, ensure you follow-up on any special offers or promises that you made to your visitors.
- Contacting leads / stand visitors: ensure you thank your visitors, personalise communication as much as you can – we always advise to send out personalised emails as oppose to bulk email campaigns, think about contacting prospects via other channels as well (social media, YouTube, website, signed printed cards). Consider calling after your first follow-up email.
- Follow-up: sometimes following-up is the key even if there's no response to your first email, consider alternative contact methods in case of slow response, build a relationship with your prospect.
