

BREAKBULK

GLOBAL EVENT PARTNERS

If you do business in more than one region in the world, your marketing program should reflect your coverage. Each Breakbulk event is designed to support your business goals, and together, our four events – in Dubai, Rotterdam, Houston and Singapore – offer worldwide exposure throughout the year. We invite you to become a Global Event Partner to maximize your reach to the decision-makers who matter for new project cargo business.

As a Global Event Partner, your elevated status opens the door to a host of marketing opportunities. GEPs receive targeted, more frequent exposure to the Breakbulk community before, during and after each event. In fact, GEPs are a big part of our Breakbulk365 initiative with top priority for editorial and event coverage in our publications and digital products.

To achieve GEP status, your company (or one of its entities) must participate in the three or more Breakbulk events within a 12-month period as an exhibitor, a sponsor* or both.

All Breakbulk events are the leaders in their regions and, each comes with its own advantages:

- Breakbulk Middle East, our fastest-growing event, has the support of many of the region's state-run and private project owners, offering direct access to key decision-makers in the Middle East and resource-rich countries in Africa.
- Breakbulk Europe attracts attendees from more than 120 countries, so if you're looking to reach the world this is the place to be.
- Breakbulk Americas offers access to decision-makers from Canada, the U.S. and Latin America where oil & gas, mining and alternative energy projects are thriving.
- Breakbulk Asia will be taking place in Asia's financial and maritime hub, Singapore – this is where major project contracts take shape, new partnerships form, and business gets done.
