● A Hyve Event

Where Grid Strategy Meets Manufacturing and Supply Chain Reality

The Grid Delivery Summit — Launching at CWIEME Berlin, April 27-28, 2027

The Global Power System Is at a Breaking Point

Surging electrification, AI-driven demand, renewable integration, and aging infrastructure are placing unprecedented pressure on grids worldwide. Lead times for critical equipment like transformers have doubled in recent years, supply chains are under severe strain, and the workforce needed to deliver this transition is shrinking.

The challenge is no longer strategy — it's delivery.

The Grid Delivery Summit Launches in Response

A new industry platform focused on solving how grid ambitions are translated into manufactured, deployable infrastructure at scale.

The Grid Delivery Summit brings the full value chain together — connecting what the grid requires with what the industry can deliver — to ensure the future energy system is not only designed but built.

Who Will You Meet?

Utilities, Grid Operators, TSOs & DSOs

EPCs Active in Grid Infrastructure

*Attendees include C-suite executives, engineering directors, procurement leaders, and R&D heads from the world's leading utilities and grid operators.

Who Should Sponsor?

The Grid Delivery Summit is designed for organizations at the heart of the grid infrastructure value chain — those who supply, build, digitize, and deliver.

I was in brilliant company with the wider speaker programme. I think this was fantastic. When you collect people who have genuine insight, something comes out of it through the dialogue that makes the whole to be more than the sum of the parts. And I think that's what an event like this does. I'll definitely be returning.
