Airport transfers

Moscow has 4 international airports: Sheremetyevo, Domodedovo, Vnukovo and Zhukovsky.

Due to the traffic in Moscow, the fastest way to get from the airport to your hotel or exhibition venue is by public transport. You can take the Aeroexpress train from the airport to one of Moscow's main railway stations and then take the metro or a taxi.

The train from Domodedovo arrives at Paveletsky station, from Sheremetevo to Belorussky station and from Vnukovo to Kievsky station. An airport shuttle bus operates from Zhukovsky Airport.

If you prefer to use a taxi, we recommend using Urber or Yandex Taxi. The average price for a taxi journey to and from the airports is around $23-38/£18-30.

For trips within the city, we recommend using the metro.

Things to know about Russia

Climate:

Russia can get very cold in the winter and very hot in the summer, but most importantly, it is very changeable. Please check the weather forecast before your trip.

Cuisine:

Russian cuisine has a lot to offer and is well worth exploring. From the list above Obed Bufet, Karavaevi Brothers, and Ruski offer Russian cuisine.

Language:

English is not widely spoken in Russia, even in tourist areas. We recommend downloading offline translators and dictionaries.

Culture:

As a fairly traditional society, Russia has certain rules and expectations that are followed. For example, when visiting Russian Orthodox churches women should cover their heads and wear long skirts (trousers are mostly allowed). Men should wear long trousers and remove any headwear. Dressing smartly is also important in theatres and some restaurants.
