«Maritime cargo transportation: development of sea ports and terminals»

The port industry is one of the most dynamically developing. The average annual growth rate for the last 3 years was 5.7%, which is much higher than the economic growth rate. Market participants expect further growth in the future, which is associated with the launch of high-profile projects to increase transshipment capacity for key export goods. However, for the balanced port facilities development is necessary to take into account not only the potential of growth in production (or mining) and exports, but also is necessary to take the development of land transport infrastructure, primarily railway. We will discuss the real potential of increasing exports. What factors will be able to new projects prevent to reaching their targets?

Topics to be discussed at the session:

They have been writing for the last few years that the logistics sector lacks qualified personnel. Practically in each interview given to mass-media all top managers of transportation companies and logistics providers tell about "lack of drivers" and aging of personnel. Besides, absolutely all market participants point out non-sufficient qualification of university graduates. Despite competition on the market, trade companies and retailers tend to cooperate, they launch their in-house training programs for managers and provide supplementary on-the-job trainings for students, whom they coach and prepare for their own companies. Within the framework of this session, experts will have an opportunity to discuss the personnel shortage problems and capabilities for solving this vital task.

TRANSRUSSIA TRANSPORT AND LOGISTICS CONGRESS4th Conference IT Solutions in Transport and Logistics*April 15, Monday

The market of transport and logistics informatization has received new impetus thanks to the growing interest towards digital technologies and intensified competition in mastering technologies. Nowadays one can either soar on high market positions or plunge losing them all. The companies have long been trying to study opportunities of technologies for improving business competitiveness, and monitor strategic focuses shifting for the benefit of reliability, promptness and individual customer needs.

In Russia speedy adaptation of the Unified Digital Platform of Transport Complex (ECPTK) is among the priority tasks. In its turn the Government offers support of new infrastructure approaches, and considers measures for reducing adverse influence of supervisory bodies.

For the above reasons the next scheduled conference will be held under the sign of intensive discussions of new challenges, search for the best practices and understanding of potential risks and threats. Together with market players, experts and consumers we will be discussing the most interesting targets in the specific segment of logistics and intralogistics, and will find out how the basic business processes fill up with new technologies: merchandise and cargoes accounting, transport booking and monitoring, storage facilities loading, quality control, support to omnichannel approach to company development.

Conference target audience:

- Heads of transport and logistics companies and freight forwarders
- Experts of the transport industry
- Consumers of logistics centers services
- IT-directors of transport and logistics companies and freight forwarders
